

#71 The First Beings

The first beings were spiritual beings. They did not have bodies, at least not the physical kind. They could work together and sing together. They could stand in the same place and blend together, just like their songs. They loved to work because it was fun, so working was playing.

One day, a real grapevine was made from an idea of a grapevine. It became physical. Some of the spiritual beings were asked to grow the vine, so they blended inside it and made it grow. The grapevine grew flowers, then leaves, then grapes. They became ripe and sweet. As the grapevine developed and changed, the spiritual beings inside it grew, too. They also developed into different kinds of beings.

Then, one day two humans came - a boy and a girl. They were spiritual and did not have physical bodies. They looked at the grapevine. The grapes looked so good that the boy and girl developed physical bodies that could taste the grapes. They were sweet. And the boy and girl were happy.

THINGS START SPIRITUAL THEN BECOME PHYSICAL