

#139 The Prophet

He brought the boat to shore. He had fished all day. They asked him of the fishing that day. He said it was good. They asked of his boat and his nets. He answered that they were sound. They asked many things to which he always responded that all was good. They did not believe him. How could all be good? How could anyone trust that all was good. They left him on the shore. As they turned, no one saw him leave, walking on the water.

HOW DOES ONE WALK ON WATER?
